WEST LIBERTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JAN. 10, 1957

J. F. FERGUSON AGAIN ELECTED ASC CHAIRMAN

New ASC Board
To Take Office
In Morgan Feb. 1

Joe Frank Ferguson, Grassy Creek farmer, was elected for the second time this year as chairman of the Morgan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee at a meeting of the new community committee here last Friday.

Mr. Ferguson was elected by the unanimous vote of the six community committeemen present. One committeeman, Walter Riggby of the Wrigley community, did not attend the meeting.

Others elected on the county ASC committee for 1957 are: Ben Cox of Pomp, vice chairman; Joe Jenkins of Silverhill, regular member; Henry Day of Leoux, first alternate; and Ray Blair of Zieg, second alternate.

Election of the county committee took place the day after special community elections were held in four of the seven community areas of the county because the elections of Nov. 26 were contested.

Community chairmen present and taking part in organizing the county committee were: John Elam of the Cannel City community; Paul Gevedon of the Grassy Creek community; Tommie Oldfield of the West Liberty community; Leonard Holbrook of the Lanox community; Ralph Hamilton of the Dump community; and Hollie Pieratt, first alternate of the Ezel community who was substituting for Marple Faunin, community chairman, who was ill.

The new county ASC committee will officially take over control of the county ASC office Feb. 1.

Joe Frank Ferguson the new county chairman, originally was elected county chairman Nov. 27 and took office the next Monday. Because of contests filed in four community elections, these were ordered by the State ASC office re-run, and the old county committee took over again until the elections were settled.

BERRY GROWERS ELECT OFFICERS

Five counties were represented at the annual meeting Friday of the Kentucky Berry Growers Association held in Morgan county.

Seven directors retained their offices and four others were appointed at the meeting. One each from Morgan, Bath, Elliott and Fleming counties was named.

H. L. Lucy will serve as president and Bob Bishop will remain as vice president. Other directors from Rowan are: Roy Corbett, Randy Wells, Leland Hall, Glennis Fraley and Rev. M. L. Tate.

Named from Morgan county was Walter Franklin; Bath county, William Ottis; Elliott county, Van Pennington, and Fleming county, Noel Hester.

Principal topic at the meeting was the problem of increasing production at the processing plant.

H. K. Taylor is manager of the association.

MORGAN MASON ATTENDS
HONOLULU F. & A. M.

Judge John Helton is in receipt of a letter and card from his son, James W. Helton, T. Sgt., U.S. Army in Honolulu, showing his attendance at Masonic Lodge in Hawaii. The card indicates that the lodge was organized April 8, 1843, by the captain of a whaling ship and that it was organized under a legal commission by eleven Masons. Through an interpreter, a charter was issued under the French Dispensation and was issued July 24, 1850. On Jan. 14, 1857, the King of Hawaii was initiated and served as master of the lodge 1859-61 and 62. In 1905 it became No. 37, under jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of California.

Pete Helton, as he is known here, has been in Hawaii for two years. He has a wife and three children who are with him.

500 FOR ALL GRADES

Three farmers from eastern Morgan county sold their tobacco crops at Crain's in Maysville for $600 a string for all grades Wednesday. They were H. G. Young and Ronnie H. Cantrell of Silverhill and Jim Gilliam of Ophir.

Patrick Scores 50
As Ezel High Nips
Haldenvan 115 to 45

Patrick scored 50 points Tuesday night for Ezel High school when Ezel trounced Haldenvan 115 to 45 at Ezel.

The 5-foot-10 inch Patrick dropped in six foul shots and the other points he scored on field goals to run up an individual high school scoring record. H. Pieratt scored 29 points for Ezel, Collingsworth 12, S. Cecil H. Henry 4 and Perkins 2.

Hall led the scoring for Haldenvan with 17 points, and Castle and Adkins each scored 10 points.

TOBACCO SALES PASS LAST YEAR BY 33 MILLION

Kentucky burley tobacco growers are already $33,000,000 richer than at this time a year ago, and they still have a few million pounds to sell.

At the close of sales Friday Kentucky growers had received $206,056,988 for their 1956 crop. At this time a year ago their receipts totaled $172,638,824.

The State Department of Agriculture reported sales of the 1956 crop total $21,103,528 pounds—about 31,000,000 pounds more than the 290,075,665 pounds sold to this time a year ago.

The average paid for the 1956 crop is now $64.17 a hundred pounds, $4.69 higher than the average of $59.48 at this time last year.

Sales last year in its three days totaled 39,191,306 pounds at an average of $64.80. That is $5.12 higher than the $59.68 average of $64.80. That is $5.12 higher than the $59.68 average in the first week of sales following the 1955-56 holiday sales shutdown.

Department officials have said they believe a sharp break in volume will come between today and Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the Federal-State Market News Service said marketing of the present crop is winding up rapidly in the remainder of the eight-state burley area.

The service said average prices by grades were mostly steady to a little lower as compared with the week before Christmas.

Gross sales in the belt for the period Jan. 2-4 totaled $31,168,085 pounds and averaged $64.06—up 22 cents from the last week of sales.

The service said gross sales for the season total $485,711,415, pounds for an average of $63.49.

SHEEP AND CATTLE DISCUSSED AT MEET IN W. LIBERTY 10TH

Morgan county sheep and beef cattle farmers attended a meeting held by the Morgan county agent Thursday in the R.E.A. building.

George Pendergrass, University of Kentucky Extension Specialist, told the group that the most serious problem in cow and calf plan, fat calf and feeder calf production was putting too light weight calves on the market. A feeder calf should weigh 400 pounds and a grass and milk fat calf should weigh 600 pounds or over.

The solution is to get cows in line for early calving. An 18% increase in gain was possible by using three cents worth of the hormone diethylstilbestrol, commonly called stilbestrol, either implanted in the ear or fed in a ready mixed protein supplement.

R. C. Miller, sheep specialist, told the group that all Morgan county sheep farmers had been successful with their flocks.

He said that every experiment showed that sheep and cattle together on a farm made more profit than either one alone. He said that 20,000 sheep had been brought into Eastern Kentucky since the pilot project was begun three years ago. The average ewe, he said, produces a gross return of $25.00 to $30.00 yearly.

Morgan county could easily have a half-million dollar income from sheep and still keep all of the other enterprises such as beef cattle on the farms, he told the group.

Attending the meeting were the following: M. T. Williams, West Liberty; Hager Ray and John Cundiff, Grassy Creek; Tommy Oldfield, White Oak, Geo. Hamilton and Woodrow Fugate, Mize; Byron Lewis, Mize; Cummings Fugate, Joe Frank Ferguson, Burden Ross and Frank Gevedon of Grassy Creek; Richard Brown of Wrigley.

The service said average prices by grades were mostly steady to a little lower as compared with the week before Christmas.

Gross sales in the belt for the period Jan. 2-4 totaled $31,168,085 pounds and averaged $64.06—up 22 cents from the last week of sales.

DEVILS SPLIT 2 CONTESTS

By Wallace Cantrell Jr.

The Morgan Blue Devils gained a very decisive revenge here Friday night by handing the Salversville Hornets a 77-59 defeat. Salversville, which is always tough on their home floor, had defeated the Devils earlier in the season.

The two teams waged a typical Salversville-Morgan County battle for three quarters when the Devils caught fire to go on to win by 18 points.

Morgan led at half-time 42-36.

They began to work the ball in close and step up their drive in the second half, however, to gain a comfortable lead. Coach Nickell substituted his reserves in the final minutes and gave his regulars a rest.

Morgan was paced by Darrell Wheeler with 21 points, Darrel Pelfrey and Bobby Rose 14 each, and Billy Bailey with 13 points.

The Devils suffered their second defeat of the season to Sandy Hook's rugged Lions here Tuesday night.

Morgan trailed seven points at half-time, but the great height of Sandy Hook was too much for them, as Coach Linville's five big men hit the net.

This was the largest crowd of the season with the hometown fans not having much to cheer about, as they saw the Devils go down to 77-64 defeat.

Darrell Wheeler led with 24 points, followed by Bill Bailey with 17. Sandy Hook was paced by Manning with 22, Green with 18, and Banks and Rice collecting 10 points each.

DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE TO MEET MONDAY

Morgan county's role in the 12-county Northeastern Kentucky Rural Development Project will be decided at a meeting of leaders and interested persons in the R.E.A. building in West Liberty next Monday commencing at 1 p.m.

Morgan is one of 12 northeastern counties in the Ashland trading area where a grass-roots program is being inaugurated to raise the standard of living in rural areas. Elliott is the pilot county of the project.

The Northeastern Rural Development area includes Elliott, Morgan, Lawrence, Boyd, Johnson, Greenup, Wolfe, Carter, Martin, Lewis, Magoffin and Rowan counties.

A preliminary meeting to determine Morgan county's needs, potentials and aims in making it a better place in which to live was held last Friday.

Atty. W. Major Gardner, temporary chairman for Morgan county in the program, named committees to carry out the development of Morgan along four general lines—agricultural, industrial, educational and social.

These four committees are now engaged in studying the county's needs and potentials and drafting preliminary reports. These reports

DAIRY BUILDINGS TO BE DISCUSSED

ELMER C SCHEIDENHELM

KERMIT MILLS

Dairy farmers and others interested in types of construction of buildings for silos, milk houses and dairy barns are invited to attend a meeting at the Ezel high school in Ezel Jan. 22 at 10 a.m., according to County Agent Carl W. Sinclair.

Speakers will be Kermit Mills, UK agricultural extension engineering specialist, and Elmer C. Scheidenhelm, dairy specialist.

The latter will discuss dairy cattle feeding and management for 1957 with emphasis on silage feeding.

The discussions will be geared to dairy problems in Morgan county, Mr. Sinclair said.

Colored slides will be shown and a tour of self-feeding bunker silos will be held following the meeting.

The county agent and specialists furnished the assistance in building and filling these silos.

All farmers are invited to attend this interesting meeting.

Second Lieut. Paul E. Haney has been promoted to First Lieutenant at the Marine base in Cherry Point, N.C., and was highly commended by his commanding officer. He is the son of Mrs. Gene Haney, Louisville, and grandson of Mrs. Sallie Haney, also of Louisville. Mrs. Haney is the former Ruth Evelyn Franklin, and they have a daughter, Kim.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH NOTES By Mrs. W. H. Wells

Jan. 10.—The first meeting in the New Year of our Ladies Aid was held in the Fellowship hall Thursday, Jan. 3, at 2 p.m., with Mrs. Grace Adkins in charge of the program. Taking for her subject "Making Religion Real Through Prayer," she spoke on the subject to the following: Mrs. Adkins and Mrs. Luther Blair, Josephine McGuire gave an interesting talk on the many resolutions we make each year. Members were asked to pray for our work and most responded with an earnest plea for help in being better Christians. One prayer was read from Mrs. Stella Fannin who is in Florida. During the business period the president was in charge. Each member responded to the roll call by giving a verse of Scripture. Mrs. Oscar Caskey and Mrs. John Caskey served angel food cake and spiced tea to the following: Josephine McGuire, Mrs. Henry Perry, Mrs. Grace Adkins, Mrs. Lula Arnett, Mrs. J. Ryan Nevius, Mrs. Luther Blair, Mrs. Oscar Caskey, Mrs. Josie Caskey, Mrs. Tom Wells, Mrs. Ray Williams, Mrs. Ezra Wells, Mrs. Katie McClain, Mrs. W. H. At a group meeting Saturday night in Fellowship hall, youth of the church prayed and planned for a sharing in the fellowship of other young people. For three months now the youth of Old Grass and our church have joined each other in a program. On Saturday night, Jan. 12, at White Oak Christian church a service by young people will be led by Gary Elam. Taking part will be Miss Jean Cline, pianist of White Oak, Danny McLain, Leonard Ruth, Mike Goveden, Everett Long, Jimmy D. Fannin, Priscilla Rose and others.

For the Friday evening prayer service Rev. Nevius will discuss "Need for Silence." There will be choir practice for those of the recently organized group after the service.

Sunday morning worship service subject will be "Something For Nothing." Rev. Nevius' evening message will be "Necessity of A Future."

We were sorry to hear of Jimmy Fannin suffering a badly strained ankle. Jimmy is one of our faithful workers among the youth.

ROTARY PRESIDENT

MORGAN COUNTIANS IN TUCSON, ARIZONA

Word from Rev. and Mrs. R. V. McClure, who are wintering in Tucson, Arizona, indicates they are enjoying the warm sunshine in the West. "We have been invited to so many different places here," writes Mrs. McClure.

"Some folks here take our home paper and read it in that we were here and come to see us. Tom Henry Caskey's widow, Kathleen, a niece and Justin Rowland live here, also Victor Wells, Willis Wells' son. He came to see us and invited us to his house.

"We spent New Year's eve with the Kathleen Caskey family and two other couples. Had scripture reading and prayer before leaving. Mrs. Ruth Jennings served so many different foods and the evening was enjoyed by all.

"We had Christmas dinner with a Mr. and Mrs. South. We also had a turkey dinner with my nephew and family, Herbert Geddon. We go sight-seeing often.

The mountains are beautiful and some of the higher peaks are covered with snow. The cactus are large and beautiful. Our sons Gend and Talmadge have been to us, and we plan later to visit them and our daughter Olive.

"We appreciate the many cards and letters we received during the holidays. We miss our neighbors and would love to see every one, but I guess it will be a few months yet."

The McClures are residing at 2513 N. Sycamore, Tucson, Ariz.

Mrs. Voiers is a noted lecturer and traveler. On Feb. 12 she will make her fourth address to the Vanceburg Woman's Club, in the form of an illustrated lecture on her travels in Italy and Spain.

Hazard in Perry county was named by men who served under Oliver Hazard Perry in the Battle of Lake Erie.

While in Nashville, Gilley made arrangements to handle record promotion for a number of top artists, including Jim Reeves, Jimmie Dickens, Jean Shepard, Mimi Roman and others throughout eastern and central Kentucky and parts of Ohio, West Virginia and Virginia. The first record receiving promotion by Gilley was Miss Roman's recording of "Tonight I Made You Mine." Currently, Jim Reeves' Victor waxing "Am I Losing You" is receiving top promotion and seems certain to become a hit song.

Being long associated with the management of talent on a local scale, Gilley also signed recently to handle the exclusive management of Mercury recording artists, Denver Duke and Jeffery Null, on a national basis. Duke and Null are well known as "The Men With Women Voices" and they offer a style that is unique and original. Their first record for Mercury, "I Ain't Dead" and "Rock and Roll Blues" has been showing well throughout the country. They are urged to attend the annual Grand Ole Opry and Wheeler's World Original Jamboree and introduced the numbers to many additional listeners.

Gilley, who organized the Elvis Presley Fan Club in Kentucky last year and headed it until last July, cancelled all his former artist contracts, with the exception of his two girl singers, Doris Lee of WMOB-Morhead, and Beverly Bresson formerly of WOR-TV, Davenport, Iowa.

Songwriter Carter Gibbs of Hazel Green, who accompanied Gilley to Nashville, will handle the management reins for the two.

MOREHEAD WILL BE AREA FOCAL POINT FOR HIGHWAY DEPT.

(Rowan County News)

Now comes the announcement from Frankfort that the zone engineering office at Morehead will not only be kept, but its functions will be greatly expanded. Morehead will hereafter be in charge of all construction, plus engineering, design and other phases.

This means, in simple terms, that Morehead will be the focal point of the highway department in 21 counties of the area. Floor space in the present building may be more than doubled. Many desirable families in the higher income bracket will move to our town . . . every day scores of people will come to Morehead about their highway problems . . . designers and contractors will make Morehead their working point. All of which adds up to more business for our merchants.

We believe you will, within the year, read in this newspaper that a contract is being let for the long-sought but not-yet-obtained district state police barracks east of Morehead.

TEACHER CAREER TOPIC AT MEET

Bernard E. Whitt was the guest speaker at the January meeting of the Morgan County Woman's club held at the home of the president, Mrs. Mae Wells. Tuesday evening, his topic was "Ways to Interest Young People in the Teaching Profession." Mr. Whitt said that "next after the home, schools and the church give young people the basic fundamentals to live a good life."

After visiting some of the senior classes, he said he found that very few seniors wanted to be teachers, and after talking with them about the reasons, he listed the following recommendations to make the teaching profession more attractive: better pay base for 12 months; better and more school rooms; more teachers, so that each teacher would not have more than 25 pupils; parent help in discipline; teaching should be a satisfying experience aside from salary.

Mr. Whitt told of the reward of satisfaction that he had received from the successes of his pupils. He said the responsibility of the teacher was great but the reward too was great.

Mrs. Crystal Howard was responsible for the program and introduced Mr. Whitt. Mrs. Wells gave the devotional program and Mrs. Norsworthy offered prayer. A delightful salad, candy, coffee and tea were served to Mrs. C. K. Stae, Mrs. Curren Nickell, Mrs. Crystal Howard, Mrs. Earl Kinner, Miss Florence McGuire, Mrs. H. D. TAX GUIDE FOR SMALL BUSINESSES Available

In a desire to be of service to the small businessman in this area, the Cincinnati field office of the Department of Commerce is making available the new booklet, "Tax Guide For Small Business," just released by the Internal Revenue Service.

This tax guide presents in non-technical language the answers to tax questions and problems common to most small businesses. It deals with the Federal income, employment and excise tax problems of corporations, partnerships and sole proprietorships. The guide covers the operation of a going business, the establishment of a new business, and the liquidation and sale of a business.

OBITUARYBLAIR

Clarence Blair was born in Morgan county October 20, 1893. He was the son of Anderson and Sally Blair. He died in West Liberty Hospital Jan. 4, 1957, at the age of 63 years, 2 months and 15 days.

He was married to Hannah Caskey, and to them were born eight children, six of whom survive: Curvie Perry, Ashland; Dorothy Thompson, Ironton, O.; Velta Gibson, Ashland; Vina Anderson, Georgia; Ethel Combs, Scutty, Ky., and Gertrude Gibbs, Fairborn, Ohio.

After the death of his first wife, Hannah Blair, he was married to Rissie Keeton, who survives. To them were born six children, all of whom survive: Anna Marie Keeton, Dayton, O.; Clarence, Jr., Mary, Jimmie, Garnet and Bernice at home. He leaves two step-daughters, Virginia Keeton, Lenox, and Geneva Berrett of Alabama; also 32 grandchildren.

He was converted and became a member of the Holiness church about 38 years ago and lived a devoted Christian life.

Funeral was conducted in the Lickfork church with Elders M. B. Whitt and Pete Keeton officiating. Potter Funeral Home was in charge.

CLIFTON ENGLE

Clifton Engle was born at Dwarf, Perry county, March 8, 1887, and departed this life at Yocum December 28, 1956, age 69 years, 9 months and 20 days. He was the son of William B. and Vina Fuggett Engle. He was married to Miss Carrie Martin on March 8, 1911, to whom one son, Ollie Engle, of Germantown, O., was born.

His first wife preceded him in death on February 9, 1917. He was married March 19, 1919, to Miss Clella Lewis, and to them were born two sons and one daughter, Charles and Clifford Engle and Mrs. Violet Riggs of all of Yocum.

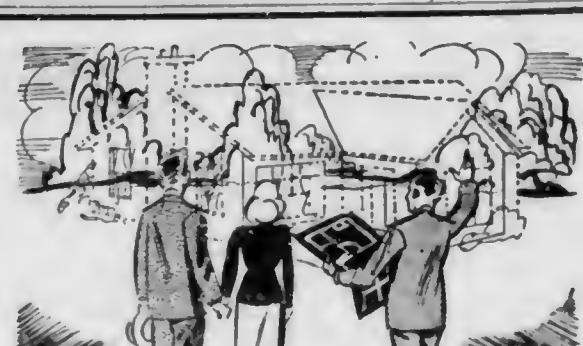

Engle entered the U. S. Army on May 24, 1918, and was honorably discharged from service February 22, 1919. He served with the American expeditionary forces in Engle and France from August 18, 1918, to Jan. 6, 1919. He was wounded in action October 9, 1918—and spent five months overseas.

After his return from service and his second marriage, Mr. Engle spent most of his life as a farmer at Yocum. He lived about five years in South Solon, Ohio, and when his health failed he returned to their farm here. He had been in failing health for some time and was recently taken to a hospital, but soon learned that medical aid could not help him and he asked his wife to take him home where he could spend the remainder of his life with his family.

Surviving besides his wife and four children are four grandchildren, Leon and Jimmy Engle of Yocum and Shirley and Elaine Engle, Germantown, O.; two sisters, Mrs. Arrie Manning, Dayton, Ohio, and Mrs. Lou Banks, Gilmore; and a number of other relatives and friends.

He expressed his complete confidence and trust in his Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ and said he was ready to meet God in peace. Funeral was conducted Dec. 31 at the old home at Yocum by the Rev. M. B. Whitt of Wrigley, and burial was on the old homeplace. Potter Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Credit Stacy of Scottsburg, Ind., is visiting his brother, Alden Stacy and other relatives in Morgan county. He has been in Indiana for 17 years. He is an employee of the Morgan Packing Company, one of the largest in the United States. A former resident of Stacy Fork, he subscribed for Stacy Fork while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Tenny Gevedon moved to Ohio Sunday. Elmer Stacy and Winston Gullett took their household furniture.

NICKELL-ADAMS VOWS

Chester Nickell and Joyce Ann Adams were married Dec. 30. They will reside at Cannel City for awhile.

Shirley Haney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Haney, was confined to her room with measles recently.

James Peyton and family have gone to Cainey City. James plans to seek employment in Ohio soon. Clarence Haney was in town Thursday.

Many thanks to the Courier for the nice holiday greeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Finch were Sunday visitors in the home of Mrs. Maria Wages.

Arnold Haney spent a few days at his home and returned to Ohio Sunday.

Clifford Haney purchased a new Ford truck recently.

CONSOLATIONBy Marshalene Walter

JAN. 1—Earl Wilson of Middlebury, Ohio, is spending the holidays with family and friends here.

Wendell Dofford spent Christmas with his sister, Mrs. Earl Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Rose were Christmas dinner guests of his father, Grant Rose.

Those who attended the annual singing meet at Camargo this New Years eve included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson, Mrs. Lucy Oldfield, Mrs. Luther Oldfield, Mrs. Bonnie Davidson and Mrs. Florence Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Spencer were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Chaney thru the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Block also visited the Chaney's. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Block and Mrs. Orville Chaney were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Stamper, Jr., of West Liberty, Dec. 26. Mrs. Jessy Gevedon was present also.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Oldfield had as visitors during the holidays their daughter, Virginia and friend of Middletown, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Austin Oldfield and Jimmy and Mr. and Mrs. Herchel Patrick of Middletown.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Nickell are the proud parents of a son, Terry Ralph. This is the Nickells' second child and second son. Congratulations. Mrs. Nickell is the former Betty Jean Oldfield.

Kenny Ann Halsey was hostess to a delightful Christmas party at her home recently where most of the Ezels freshman, sophomores and a few others were present.

Several little boys had a very good time last Friday at a birthday party given for Danny Lacy by his mother, Mrs. Bill Lacy. Danny was nine years old.

Charles Edward Cecil, who has been hospitalized for the past few weeks is able to be home again. We wish you a speedy recovery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends and relatives who helped so kindly in many ways during the illness and death of our dear husband and father, Clifton Engle. We especially wish to thank Rev. M. B. Whitt for his comforting words, the choir for the beautiful songs, for all who contributed flowers and the Potter Funeral Home for their kind and efficient service.—Ollie Engle and Family and Clella Engle and Family.

FLORESS—S. S. ATTENDANCE IS GROWING

FLORESS, Ky., Jan. 7—(By Jessie E. Stacy)—Chief interest at Floress now is Sunday school at Lacy Creek church. Most of the citizens here are attending and showing interest. Christmas Sunday attendance was 109, Dec. 30, the attendance was 89, Jan. 6, 115. H. C. Rose of Daysboro is superintendent and Earle Bolin, assistant superintendent. Teachers are Rev. Chas. Frederick, Mrs. Orpha Hamilton, Mrs. Anos Conley, Mrs. Harold Frederick, secretary, Mrs. Myrtle Osborne, treasurer, James C. Conley.

Not sending many cards this past holiday, I got a pleasant surprise to receive almost as many cards as I did last year—60 to be exact. Most of them were readers of my news column. Also several with a compliment added. I wish to thank each and everyone for the most beautiful cards I have ever received, and an extra thank you to you readers I haven't met and for the nice card from the Courier staff.

BIRTH OF DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Cottle are the proud parents of a baby daughter. She is their second child and first girl.

Pfc. Darrell G. Williams of New Mexico is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vinson L. Williams.

Mrs. Bonnie Nickell is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Audra Stapleton of Trace Fork, who is very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Tyree and children of War Creek visited Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Easterling Sunday.

Rev. Walter Easterling attended church at Centererville Saturday night and Sunovay and was overnight guest of Rev. and Mrs. Leslie Gevedon, Guy and Mary Holton.

Thurman Ferguson and James B. accompanied Monnie Marie Ferguson to Honeymoon Hollow Sunday morning. Monnie stays with James and Essie Conley and attends school at Lacy Creek.

Naomi Conley is visiting for a while with her niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Johnson of Cow Branch.

Anna Ree and Clinton Johnson of Cottle visited Yours Truly Saturday. Sunday guests were Mary Lou and Billy Conley.

When I was small the method for giving medicine was a finger and thumb holding my nose as a spoon of castor oil or olive oil went in my mouth, someone saying, "Swallow, then you can breathe." Billy Conley, age 5, imitating Dr. Ralph Gullett, said,

"I'm a doctor," I said, "Give me some medicine, my arm hurts."

Billy replied, "I can't, I don't have any needle with me." I think the needle method is much more pleasant.

if your husband had to do this today . . ....guess what he'd do tomorrow!

If your husband had to take down the family wash every time it rains—and then put it all back up—he'd soon buy an electric clothes dryer!

Since things don't work that way, why not explain your problem to him? Maybe he hasn't even thought about it!

explain . . . how heavy wet clothes are, and how you have to wrestle them out to the clothesline, basketload after basketload . . . week after week . . . month after month.

explain . . . how your back aches after you hang out the wash . . . bend and straighten . . . bend and straighten . . . over and over and over again.

explain . . . the nuisance of keeping up with clothespins, wiping clotheslines clean and tightening them when they sag.

explain . . . how much smoother and fluffier each piece is when it comes from the dryer . . . that some pieces such as towels don't even have to be ironed, and all can be ironed without sprinkling.

If you do, chances are you'll soon own a bright new electric clothes dryer. And he'll be just as proud as you when that clothesline comes down, to tell the world that your family

SCHOOL NEWS

VERY FEW SENIORS DESIRE TO TEACH

(By Bernard E. Whitt)

A democracy without education is a prelude to a tragedy or a farce or both in government. The American public school system is our country's effort to give to all its citizens an equal opportunity. Education is the training in a school or institution with a view for right conduct and effective action. Its purpose is to prepare one for complete living. A teacher is one who instructs and guides and imparts knowledge. Without teachers we would have no schools. Next to the parent, the teacher is of greatest importance in training children or adults.

The development of great industries and machines which take the place of human beings, greater skills and training for the use of these machines has provided employment to millions of men and women in highly paid jobs. This has caused fewer men and women to desire to become teachers. I have wondered how the young people of today feel about teaching. I visited a class in West Liberty Monday composed of 42 people about equally divided between juniors and seniors in high school.

When a Cold Strikes
Strike Back with ICON
Men-The-Sole
It's Liquid - 39¢ Bottle

I first asked them how many think they would like to become teachers. The answer was one young lady who said she would. The second question was, "What do you think you want to do?"

Thirteen wanted to be secretaries, six farmers, one lawyer and one a doctor. Three wanted to be nurses. Several were undecided. Their reason for not wanting to teach: 31 wouldn't like it, five too low salaries, 32 thought it required too much time to prepare and go to college. Most of them thought the behavior and discipline problems were more worry for teachers than the instruction and teaching of the lesson. When asked what they would do for misbehavior they said they would talk to the student and then expel them from school.

Ezel School

At Ezel I visited with the senior class of 20 students taught by Otis Murphy, principal. He rode eight miles per day when a boy to attend school. He now has a master's degree. The class met in a small room upstairs in one of the buildings. However, they were so nice and interesting that I forgot about the room. In this class three want to be teachers, 3 factory workers, 1 lawyer, 2 doctors, 4 nurses, 1 veterinarian, 1 clerical, 4 undecided. Ten felt it took too long to prepare for a teacher and that the salary was too low. The class thought that in addition to the salary the gratitude and appreciation of their work and in later years to meet with pupils they had helped was worth something more than money.

One girl said she thought good teachers were happy in their work and smiled. She thought that sad looking teachers should do something else. The class discussed that not only is this true in teaching but in all work. Miss Mabel Parchman who is teaching her second year at Ezel thinks that the people are very cooperative and she enjoys an opportunity to teach the able.

Miss Parchman is a graduate of Austin Peay State College in Clarksville, Tenn., and has attended other colleges. She taught in the public schools in Houston County, Tenn., Roanoke, N.C., Lansing, Mich., and in Florida. She teaches 7th, 8th and 9th year math and 8th history. She says her hardest problem is the large number in some of the classes, in one class she has 50. And the second problem is the retarded pupils.

The following are the seniors in Ezel high school—Roger Colinsworth, Fay Little, Johnnie May, Paul McGuire, J. C. Taulbee, Doyle Watson, Marilyn Bach, Barbara Cecil, Phoebe Cox, Bertha Ruth Fugate, Janie Helton, Betty Henry, Helen Lane, Arleen McKinney, Phyllis Motley, Arlene Nickell, Lois Nickel, Ruby Nickell, Ella Gaye Vest.

ELLIOTT SCHOOL Hires NEW BAND DIRECTOR

The Elliott County Board of Education hired Doyle Searcy of Louisville as band director, beginning the second semester of the Sandy Hook high school. Searcy is a student of Georgetown College and Eastern State College, with a music major. He has studied music theory, music history, music instruments and voice and choral. He will direct band and will organize a glee club.

Mr. Searcy will replace Miss Lavinia Swar who is leaving here to enter Morehead college where she has been granted a scholarship to finish her college education

Town Journal Will Discontinue Feb. 1

On December 27, Richard Babcock, president of Farm Journal, Inc., announced that Town Journal will be discontinued following publication of the February issue.

The basic reasons for the decision have a familiar ring to everyone in the publications business whether newspaper or magazine: "The combination of high and rising production costs together with an ever-increasing competitive market for the advertiser's dollar has made the development of a new major consumer magazine almost prohibitively expensive."

Introduced only in March of 1953, the magazine will have more than 2,000,000 subscribers at the time of its discontinuance.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this opportunity through the Licking Valley Courier to express our thanks and appreciation to every one who helped in any way in the recent death of Mrs. Frank Collins. FIVE NEW FORD glamour wagons long, low and loaded with Go!

Leave it to the station wagon leader to make the big station wagon news for '57! And what news! Wagons so big, so full of fine-car prestige that you'll wonder how it can be done at low Ford prices.

Under the front hinged hood you'll find new power—Six power!—V8 power!—proven in-action power.

Inside you'll find more usable loadspace. And the wrap-around liftgate gives you greater loading ease.

If your choice is the 9 passenger Country Squire, you'll be proud to pull up at the finest places in this new glamour wagon with its smartly distinctive wood-like trim.

If your needs call for a 6 passenger station wagon with four doors, you'll love the new Country Sedan. When you fold the rear seat into the floor, you'll find there's almost nine feet of loadspace—nearly a foot more than ever before.

There's still another 4 door Country Sedan. It has the extra third seat for 9-passenger room. And, as in all Ford wagons for '57, you have the new single-control handle which opens both the wrap-around liftgate and tailgate with one motion. And they can't be opened from inside!

There's good news, too, for fans of Ford's celebrated Ranch Wagon.

This 6 passenger, 2-door model features Ford's new sublined tones, the last word in modern decor. And when it comes to quiet, there's no wagon like Ford wagons!

In the wonderful way that Ford can take a fine thing and make it even finer, the Del Rio Ranch Wagon goes a step beyond the Ranch Wagon in style, fabrics and trim. It brings you 2 door, 6 passenger wagon life at its best.

Better see for yourself—and soon. Take a Ford wagon for a spin. You'll agree that for styling it's a sweetheart... for work and power, it's a nimble, obedient slave!

New '57 Fords have toughest shake-down cruise in history!

The '57 Ford broke 450 national and international records in a kilometer and 50,000 miles race in Salt Lake City, Utah, in the most grueling test in automotive history. For 50,000 miles, two '57 Fords averaged over 107 and 108 mph respectively. This time included all pit stops... the greatest endurance test of all time!

"Poke Bonnet" Inspires Homemaker To Try Her Hand At Hat-Making

By Mary Brock Helton

My first introduction to the poke bonnet was at a church bazaar in Scotland.

Being well acquainted with the bleak and sunless climate of Britain, and having felt the fury of the biting winds of the North Sea, my conjecture was pretty accurate in surmising that the bonnet had arrived from some distant clime where warmth and brilliant sun walked hand in hand.

After living in the United States for more than 25 years, I am convinced that the poke bonnet gracing the church bazaar shelf was an alien from a territory seldom visited by city dwellers.

The more I gazed at the bonnet, the more enchanted I became. The late afternoon sun filtered through the stained glass windows of the church hall and caught the blue of the Madonna's robe and reflected and deepened the blue in the small forget-me-not print of the bonnet. A fine haze of dust stirred by the traffic rose from the floor and formed a halo around the bonnet. I walked around the stall and viewed the bonnet from the back. There it sat, smocked and ruffled and with ties long enough to circle my waist.

I had just emerged from a session with Zane Gray and his "Riders of the Purple Sage" and wanderlust was already at work in me. There in sight of the poke bonnet on the shelf I imagined

Mount Washington was a community on the stage turnpike from Louisville to Nashville as early as 1800. The settlement was first known as The Crossroads, then as Mount Vernon; finally, by order of postal authorities, Mount Washington.

BANK ROBBERY

(Continued from page one) the bank, went some 60 feet down a side street beside the bank to Main street and was starting for the hotel across the street when he saw someone crossing the street ahead of him and fired at the figure.

He hurried to the hotel and phoned Sheriff Little, who was walking with two visitors, Frank Adams and Ed Graham, at his home. All three hurried to the scene and Mr. Stone, who was still in his underwear and an overcoat, surrounded the bank. Then a man darted from an alley and was crossing Main street when Adams fired at him with his shotgun. The fugitive did not stop but turned down Johnson street.

Bandits Return Fire

Sheriff Little gave chase, but as they rounded the corner at Johnson street they were fired upon by an automatic weapon.

Stone saw a car parked with its lights on and motor running near the Johnson street home of George Hatton and realized the machine gun was being fired from that direction. "I emptied my gun at the car," he said.

Then he concluded the sheriff "was down" so he ran to his side and he told me he was shot. I asked for his gun, saying mine was empty. He said he had lost his. As I raised him from a kneeling position I saw a rifle coming at me. I didn't have time to dodge it."

Stone said the blow from the gun stock knocked him flat, and as he tried to rise he was clubbed again.

Stone wore a large bandage over his forehead after being treated by a physician. Graham and Adams went to Little's aid as the gunmen escaped in the car.

A huge posse made up of citizens, officers of Wolfe and neighboring counties began scouring the hills near Campton and just before daybreak found an abandoned car, a green 1952 Chrysler, near Mary, on Devils Creek road.

One of the rear tires was in shreds from bullets, possibly.

State Police Lt. W. O. Newman, who took over the direction of the search, said its front end had been jacked up, possibly in an attempt to turn around. There was a bullet hole in the trunk of the car believed to have been made by Stone's pistol.

Inside the car were found the acetylene torches, Oklahoma license tag and tarpaulin mentioned earlier in the story. A Federal Bureau of Investigation officer who arrived here early Sunday afternoon said the possibility of an Oklahoma connection was being checked.

The search was intensified at 9:00 a.m. Sunday morning when Supt. Taylor Booth reported that he had been held up at gun point on the Wolfe County high school grounds and his auto taken from him. He says there were two men, one of whom was wounded. Booth said he had become suspicious when he saw a man whom he did not know come down off the hill on which the school house is located as he was driving back home after going to town for the morning paper about 6:00 a.m. Then he said a neighbor reported she had seen a desperate looking character who was bald headed with blood on his forehead. He reported the incident then while he was eating breakfast he decided he would investigate the school busses which are kept parked on the hill when not in use, beside the school building, about 8:00 a.m.

At the second veranda which he checked, he said, "As soon as I opened the door a man in the bushes was bending low, talking and looking at me over a gun which he held in his left hand and leveled it at my face. The man climbed down out of the bus," Booth said, then the conversation went something like this:

The man: "I am sorry mister, but you've got yours! If in peak of trouble."

Booth: "Why, what's the matter? I haven't done anything."

Man: "We're in trouble; our lives depend on getting out of here safely. You've found us and will tell the police—you will have to go with us in that car." (Booth's words.)

Booth: "There is my car, leave me here. If you won't shoot me, I will stand in my tracks until you get out of sight."

After some more conversation along this line, the bandit warned Mr. Booth to face south and stand where he was. Then he asked, "Did you see anybody except me when you looked in the bus?" Booth replied: "No, I've scarcely seen you."

The man replied, "In the game of cops and robbers, it is not safe to leave witnesses behind to tell the police." The man moved back to the bus while talking. Then Booth said he warned him not to move. He said he thought the man got back into the bus, for then he heard him bring someone out of it and put them into the car. He was warned again not to move, then the man got into the car himself, asked and was told by Booth to start the car. Then he drove away and Booth says he watched the car until it was out of sight.

While the transfer of the man from the bus to the car was being made, Booth said he heard the groans of someone, apparently wounded and suffering.

Later, officers found a blood-soaked shirt and pair of bloody sweat trousers in the bus. A large amount of blood was also found where a man had been wounded by Stone in the rest room at the bank and the front seat of the Chrysler was blood stained. A blood saturated cap was found outside the bank room window.

The car stolen from Booth was a 1949 Chevrolet.

At the bank, where the intruders had gained admittance to the rest room by removing a steel grating and breaking a window, Cashier Charles E. Linden reported nothing had been missing.

Early Monday morning, a posse led by Constable John Combs and made up of Hendrix Allen, Tip Dunn, Riley Harris and a Graham man captured a suspect at Pine Ridge. He gave his name as Don Scott and he also had papers on him made out to Paul Scott. He had spent the night at a home on Pine Ridge. A neighbor woman gave the police a tip that a suspicious looking character was out there at the home of some of her neighbors. He had been wounded on both legs and on the head. When the posse went out to investigate he gave himself up. He was unarmed.

Then on Tuesday, John Paul Scott and Morris were found hidden and shivering in a fodder shock on the farm of Harold Alexander about seven miles from Campton on the Sky Bridge road. They emerged from their hiding place to face the leveled guns of a posse of farmers, F.B.I. agents and State police.

Both In Bad Shape

Both men were in bad physical condition. Scott was suffering from gunshot wounds in the mouth, neck and right arm, apparently inflicted during a gun battle that followed the robbery attempt on Farmers & Traders Bank in downtown Campton. Morris' feet were severely frostbitten.

Both men were taken to Good Samaritan Hospital here after having been given emergency treatment at Maddox Clinic in Campton.

Along with Donald R. Scott, brother of John Paul Scott, they were named in federal warrants charging burglary, issued by U.S. Attorney Henry Cook.

John Scott and Morris surrendered without resistance.

They handed over to officers a submachine gun, a loaded clip containing .45-caliber submachine bullets, and a fully loaded .38-caliber pistol. A .22-caliber pistol later was found secreted in another shock of fodder about 50 yards away.

An F.B.I. agent said the men were hardly able to comply when he ordered them to "come out peacefully, if you know what's good for you."

Alexander called to the rest of us, who were about 25 yards away at the time," the F.B.I. agent said. "We surrounded the shock, not knowing whether the men were inside, and I shouted out the order to surrender."

Scott crawled out and "it was obvious that he was in bad physical shape. He wasn't able at first to tell us whether there was someone else inside the shock."

"We called out again for anyone inside to surrender. After no answer, we kicked over the shock. Then Morris arose from underneath the toppled shock and crawled out.

The condition of his badly frostbitten feet wouldn't permit him to walk. Underneath the shock were no submachine gun, the clip, and the pistol. We found the .22 pistol in a shock that Morris pointed out. He admitted it belonged to them."

Afraid To Give Up'

Asked by the officer why they didn't "give yourselves up," the agent quoted the men as replying:

"We were afraid the posse would kill us. When we learned that the F.B.I. had taken over, we felt less afraid, but we were still afraid to give up."

The agent said Morris had milked a cow in a nearby field "at least twice" in order to get some food for himself and Scott.

The men "wouldn't have been able to hold out much longer, as both were in pretty bad shape when we found them," said a Wolfe county deputy sheriff.

The posse went to the farm area off Sky Bridge road after discovery there of an abandoned automobile—the one the bandits stole from Supt. Booth.

On Wednesday, searchers found a submachine gun in a field on the farm of Mrs. Dollie Talbueff off the Devil's Creek road. It was lying about 25 feet from the road. Officers believe it is the same one used in shooting Sheriff Little. The machine gun was stolen from an armory near Danville, it was learned.

Officers have surmised this plan by the bandits. They left one auto (the Chrysler) in Campton and another one (a 1956 Chevrolet), parked on the Pine Ridge road about six miles from Campton. It was the latter they planned to use in fleeing the state.

However, early Sunday Corbett Pelfrey, a mechanic in the Charley Murphy Garage, went out the road on his way to Salt Lick. He knew of the attempted bank robbery. And when he came upon the parked 1956 Chevrolet, he removed the rotor in the distributor and had Buster Henry, postmaster at Pine Ridge, to call back to the garage. Garagemen came and towed the getaway car. When the compartment was opened, the bill of sale made out to Don Scott was found. From then on officers knew whom to look for.

Harold Alexander suspected John Paul Scott and Morris were in the fodder shock on his farm when he noticed bits of hay leading from his barn to the fodder shock. It later proved that during Monday night Morris had carried some hay from the barn to the shock to help keep them from freezing.

State Police Lt. William O. Newman was in charge of a detail of some 20 State policemen. County officers worked under direction of Deputy Sheriff Adams.

MORE BULLET HOLES, BLOOD AT CAMPION — The big circle at left marks a blood-stained spot where Sheriff George C. Little of Campion fell Sunday morning after being shot through both knees by bandits armed with one or more submachine guns. Smaller circles show where three bullets struck the parked car at the street's edge and a fourth—one that hit the car—struck the door of the building at left. The bank which the bandits attempted to rob is located about two blocks away, to the right of the courthouse whose top is visible in the picture. (Lexington Herald Photo.)

All Have Prison Records

Ray Fairless, special agent in charge of the Louisville office of the F.B.I., released this background information on the Scott brothers and Morris.

John Paul, 30, and Donald Rodney Scott, 28, have been convicted twice on armed robbery charges, both times in Texas.

On February 10, 1951, they escaped after robbing the Prosper State Bank, Prosper, Texas. Amount of the loot was not known.

In May, 1951, they blew open a post-exchange safe at Shepard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Texas, and escaped with about $10,000 in cash. They were apprehended shortly after at Sherman, Texas.

"I noticed they were coming from an automobile parked nearby with its engine running. I knew then that it was machine gun. I fired several times pointing blank at the car, as I could see the figure of a man behind the wheel.

"About that time the sheriff fell. Shots had seemed to come from every direction. One of the men was firing wildly. My pistol clicked empty, I crouched down beside the sheriff and he told me he was shot. I said, 'My pistol's empty, give me yours.' He said he had lost his.

"About that time I saw someone take a swipe at me with a dark object and I was really fuzzy in the head after he hit me with it right over the eyes. He drew back to hit me again, and I saw it was a machine gun. He missed me the second time.

"I had a lot of blood running down in my eyes, but I started for help for the sheriff. Adams and Graham came and helped the sheriff as best they could for the time being."
